

PROTOCERATOPS (pro-toe-SER-a-tops)

Protoceratops laid many eggs in nests made of sand. Her little babies hatched by cracking open the shells and climbing out.